CHINAMAN FINED

Gin Gee of Portsmouth, Is Assessed $25 and Costs Before Judge Whitaker Yesterday Afternoon for Breach of Peace.

Something novel in the way of a Chinaman being tried in the local courts, was had yesterday when Gin Gee of Portsmouth, Ohio, was tried before Judge Whitaker on a charge of breach of the peace.

In the testimony it was brought out that Gin Gee, together with another Chinaman, was walking down the street Sunday morning when he passed the home of two young ladies who live below the cotton factory. The young ladies had just arisen from their night's sleep. One of them was seated near the window and noticing the Chinaman, called to her cousin, asking if they were not of that race. Her cousin replied that she thought that they were. In a few moments the door of the room was opened and the Arienal entered the room and seized one of the young ladies by the hand, the other girl fled from the room and ran into a bed room in the rear. Her cousin broke loose from the man and joined her. One of the girls told her mother, who in turn told her husband. The two men were ordered from the house. Several times during the remainder of the day the Chinaman passed the house and each time he looked as if he would like to enter again. About 10 o'clock at the request of the young ladies he was arrested by Officer Throckmorton. When arrested by the officer he attempted to bribe him, but this availed nothing.

The Chinaman when placed on the stand said that he had been invited in the house by the girls. He said that he had not intended any breach of the peace. Attorney A. D. Cole, his attorney, ended his argument to the court with the statement "to remember that the American flag waves over this Chinaman as a free American citizen."

Judge Whitaker in sentencing him replied that the "American flag would not float over him as a free citizen until he paid a fine of $25 and costs."

He paid and walked out free.

COMBINED SERVICES A SUCCESS

The new plan of services started in the Christian Church Sunday morning seem to be a success. By this method of combining the Sunday School and the Church services, all the members of the School are given the benefit of both services. The communion service which is always given a prominent place in the services of this church, is made the devotional part of the combined service, and the teaching of the lesson in this connection makes the Bible School a Church-school as it should properly be. There were some few who not knowing of the change in the time of the church services came in at the close of the sermon, to these the announcement was again made that the time of the church services was from ten to eleven o'clock. This new arrangement of time will last through this month of September and longer if the plan continues to meet with favor.

GETS BIG FINE

In the case of Will Hunter in Squire Fred W. Bauer's Court yesterday Hunter was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 50 days in jail. He was charged with having liquor in his possession for the purpose of selling the same. When Hunter was found he had in his possession about four gallons of whisky and a government license to sell the same. He will be tried on another charge within a few days, that of selling liquor in prohibited territory.

PRESIDENT WILSON

To Go Before Congress Today To Seek Legislation To Avert Railroad Strike—Withdrawal of Tentative Orders To Walk Out Is Refused by Men.

Washington, August 28—President Wilson tonight definitely decided to go before Congress in person tomorrow or Wednesday to recommend legislation aimed to avert the threatened nationwide railroad strike or to stop it, if it comes before Congress can act. He worked until late tonight on his message in which he will tell members of the Senate and House the negotiations to date and lay before them a definite legislative program.

The President reached this decision after conferences at the White House with the committee of eight railroad presidents and the four brotherhood heads on a new proposal for settlement of differences, suggested by the executive, and after a prolonged discussion of the situation at the Capitol, with the members of the Democratic steering committee of the Senate. The proposal of the railroad executives was that an investigation of all issues be conducted by commission to be named by the President, the investigation to last for a period of three or four months, no action to be taken by either side in the meantime and at the conclusion of the inquiry the situation to be what it now is, the employees having the choice of either arbitrating or striking. The brotherhood heads promised a reply tomorrow morning and there was every indication it would be unfavorable.

Withdrawal of Strike Order Urged

When the railroad brotherhoods heads went to the White House tonight, the President not only laid before them the plan of the executives, but strongly urged the withdrawal of a tentative strike order sent out yesterday, subject to release, calling for a walkout of the 400,000 brotherhood members at 7 o'clock the morning of Labor Day, September 4. This request was flatly refused the leaders saying only the committee of 640, which left Washington yesterday had power to recall the order.

Copies of the strike order were brought to the President's attention after they had gotten into the possession of the railroad executives. It had been known that the members of the committee of 640 carried home with them a tentative order, but no one outside the brotherhood counsel had suspected that a date had been set and the President is said to have been perturbed by the information.

After the refusal to withdraw the order he communicated with the railroad Presidents, who held a meeting that lasted until late in the night. Inspite of the apparent final failure of his efforts to bring the two sides together, the President was represented tonight as still being hopeful of averting a strike. 6 Legislative Program Mapped Out

The legislative program prepared for Congress includes the following measures:

An eight-hour day law for railroad employees so framed as to give the railroads time to prepare for it; and

A law patterned after the Canadian industrial dispute act providing for investigation of industrial disputes on railroads by a commission and prohibiting strikes or lockouts pending the outcome of the investigation.

In addition to these measures that are under consideration, a resolution to increase the revenues of the railroads in case the expenses are increased and a law creating authority for the operation of the railroads under the Federal Government in the event of a strike. The plan tonight was to have the first two measures introduced as amendments to the bill, which has already passed the House, increasing the Interstate Commerce Commission from seven to nine members.

President Is Determined

Although on the surface a nationwide railroad strike was nearer tonight than it had ever been, confidence was expressed in official quarters that the step under contemplation would have the effect of preventing a walkout. The President realizing the disaster which would come to the country if the railroads are tied up, was said to be determined to prevent a strike at any cost. In his conferences with the executives he strongly urged that they change their hitherto unyielding attitude and when he saw the employees he declared that all suggestions from the executives should be given most careful consideration.

Final arrangements for the appearance of the President before Congress were not completed tonight, but he discussed the question fully with the Democratic steering committee of the Senate and they agreed with him that he should address a joint session. The time of his appearance depends largely upon further conferences tomorrow with the executives and the employees.

FOUNTAIN TURNED ON

The fountain on Market street has been at last turned on. Some time ago the Ledger man went to Councilman Smith, chairman of the water committee, with regard to turning on the water and he assured us that it would be done. Investigation showed that the fountain was in bad repair and would need to be fixed. Arrangements were made to fix it and this was done yesterday, the water being turned on yesterday afternoon. The teamsters will now have some place to water their horses.

We notice this morning that preparations are being made to replace the watering trough at the corner of Commerce and East Second streets.

SCHOOL BEGINS SOON

The Maysville Public Schools will begin their annual session next Tuesday morning, Monday being a holiday on account of Labor Day. The schools are all being cleaned by the janitors and at some of the buildings a number of improvements have been made.

BUSINESS MEETINGS

The Christian School teachers will hold a meeting at the church on Wednesday evening and on Friday evening the Official Board of the church will meet.

THE MATHEMATICS OF IT

"That famous unknown person who declared on one occasion that 'figures never lie but that liars figure,' might modify his epigram for this year by suggesting that it is true figures do not lie, but political statisticians twist 'em," remarked William H. Shough, of Columbus, Ohio, at the Willard.

"Democrats are claiming that they will win the coming election, but for the life of me I can't figure how they will, if it be true that figures never lie. In order to win the election the Democrats will have to get 266 electoral votes, the total number of votes in the electoral college being 531. Grant that they carry all the Southern States, with a total number of 110 electoral votes, they will then have to carry all the border States, not properly classed as Southern States, including Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Oklahoma and Tennessee, and in addition to these Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, States enumerated, and it is very doubtful whether they will win in Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada and New Jersey, they would also have to carry Illinois with its 99 votes or Ohio with 24 votes. Of course, if they were to carry New York, they could lose a few of the States that are counted for them as possible."

"On the other hand, the Republicans could lose New York and by carrying Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, and Montana, all of which are likely to go Republican, still have enough votes to win. In the law of chance, it seems to me that the Republicans have all the best of it, for there are so many combinations that can give them victory, whereas there are only one or two or three combinations that can give the Democrats the election."—Washington Post.

HUGHES THE PROTECTIONIST

Hughes' Republicanism responds in full measure to the fundamental party principle of protection. His speeches while a candidate for and while holding the office of Governor of New York, his Youngstown address—which was and which remains as the highest standard of political argumentation—and his speech of acceptance at Carnegie Hall this year all emphasize the soundness of his views on this great party doctrine and the provision with which he looks to the task of tariff revision which his administration must take up.

In all of these utterances Mr. Hughes has made it clear that the Republican party stands for the principle of protection. Indeed, it is in these words that he has most frequently introduced his discussion of the topic. To this party principle he has always given the most cordial of approval and support. Through protection he would provide for "the safeguarding of our economic independence, for the development of American industry, for the maintenance of American standards of living." He would have the principle applied "fairly, without abuses, in as scientific a manner as possible."

Regarding a tariff commission he has no illusions. He knows the limitations of the Constitution in this direction. But he believes that "Congress should be aided by the investigation of an expert body." This is both sensible and practicable. It complements the basic idea of the origination of revenue legislation and it recognizes the functions and preserves the freedom of the lawmaking body.

In short, Hughes as a protectionist leaves nothing which the most ardent advocate of the doctrine could desire.

RESOLUTENESS MEANS PEACE

The outstanding facts in Mr. Hughes' discussion of foreign relations are these: He will keep us out of war if possible, but the peace that he values is peace honorable to the nation; his concern is the United States of America; his just demands upon foreign governments will be made as a matter of right and they will be made in terms unmistakable; his aim will be to prevent violations of American lives and property; he will exhibit the might of the country in time to avert humiliation and disaster, not when the damage has been done and a show of force is a vain parading of unused strength. Mr. Hughes will not "but-in" a neighbor's affairs, but if he is compelled to adopt forceful measures in the interest of the United States he will not attempt to excuse a just action as in behalf of some phantasy, nor will he withdraw before his mission has been accomplished.

Resoluteness means peace, not war, says Mr. Hughes. Mere disillusionment accomplishes nothing, as has been proved by the failure of Mr. Wilson's interminable exchanges of notes with those who have been guilty of aggressions against us. We know the character of Mr. Hughes. There can be no doubt that when he takes the reins of government from the feeble hands of Woodrow Wilson there will be an end of that condition which has brought shame upon our peace-loving nation, shame that such peace as is ours has been bought at the price of national honor.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

The purchase of Home Run Baker by the New York Americans created more sensation in some quarters than the action looking toward buying the Nicaragua interoceanic canal strip.

Warnings are issued against kissing, in view of the danger of getting influenza. There would seem more danger in some cases of catching the diseases that affect painters.

"War is hell," to quote a noted general. But we would rather have war with honor than to bask in the sunlight of peace at the price of our neutral soul.

A good brother arises to remark that for once we are to have a sane political campaign. In which case, we opine, it will be anything but a political, etc.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

Democratic Extravagance—Senator Taggart of Indiana, the recently elected Democrat who will run for Senator in Indiana again this fall, has taken occasion to lecture the Democratic party for its "gross extravagance," following in the footsteps of Rep. Fitzgerald, the Democratic Chairman of the House Appropriations committee. "The power to tax is the power to destroy, and we do not want to destroy the people's earning power by over-taxation," said Mr. Taggart. "Instead of squandering money and passing pork-barrel bills would it not be better to cut out these useless expenditures? But if it be the fixed and determined purpose of Congress to go on yearly increasing these appropriations, would it not be better to turn them to things that would help the people instead of pouring money into sink-holes, never to return a cent upon the investment?" The Senator declared that every Senator and Congressman would go bankrupt were he to manage his own affairs with the extravagance Congress is displaying in spending the people's money. Coming immediately on top of Gov. Hughes' denunciation of Democratic extravagance, as well as the signing of the $42,000,000 Rivers and Harbors "Pork" Bill by President Wilson, Senator Taggart's speech has occasioned the utmost indignation at Democratic headquarters and there is talk of leaving the Senator to shift for himself in his efforts to obtain re-election in Indiana.

Maine Prospects—Hon. Ralph D. Cole returned from Maine today, where he opened the Republican campaign, enthusiastic over Republican prospects. Mr. Cole declares that Republicans and former Progressiveness are working hand in hand; that there is perfect loyalty to Hughes and absolute co-operation of effort. He is loud in his praises of the Republican candidate for Governor, Carl Milliken, who commands the respect and support of the people and who is making an excellent campaign. "Maine has always been noted for its patriotism," says Mr. Cole, "and the men who shouldered a musket '60 and '61 are filled with indignation at Wilson's weak and vacillating and unpatriotic conduct of our relations with Mexico. You find magnificent specimens of American manhood in Maine, men who are Americans first, last and all the time, stern, manly, rugged, and it makes their blood boil to hear of American men murdered. American women outraged and American soldiers treacherously shot down while the President of the United States fearing that any step will hurt him politically, contents himself with writing notes and arranging for a "conference" with those responsible for the wholesale murder of American citizens. Maine is as certainly in the Republican column as it ever was in our history."

Wilson Losing Grip—As seen from afar, President Wilson appears to be losing, to some extent at least, the grip he has had on Congress. With the vast patronage at his disposal and Secretary McAdoo's reputation for never failing to get even with a politician who opposes either the President or himself, Mr. Wilson has been able to dictate absolutely to Congress heretofore. But as if they foresaw his defeat in November, certain Democratic Senators are now leading a revolt. President Wilson, after vetoing the Immigration bill, forbade its reconsideration as he considered it politically inexpedient to agitate the subject further on the eve of the Presidential election. Accordingly the Democratic caucus of the Senate met and voted to lay the bill aside until after the election. Now, however, ten Democrats have bolted the caucus and voted to take up and repass the bill. The loyal Democratic Senators are still trying to carry out Mr. Wilson's orders and may prove successful, as they have authority to make generous promises of patronage to those who will recant and obey the White House, and to make dire threats of executive wrath to those who remain of the reservation.

Democratic Senators Crawl—Cringing under the White House lash, the Democratic Senators who on Monday disobeyed President Wilson's mandate and voted to take up the Immigration bill hastily crawled on Tuesday. They did not dare to face the Executive wrath and supinely yielded when they heard the crack of the White House whip. Republican Senators demanded to know if they feared to "put the President in hole" and asked what had occasioned the sudden change of mind exhibited by their Democratic colleagues, but they got only evasive answers. Never before was there presented so remarkable a spectacle of subserviency as is shown by Democratic Senators and Representatives. In private conversation they exhibit great bitterness, charging that they are treated with contempt, never consulted and merely ordered. They insist, even, that all the Democratic campaign machinery is being devoted to the single purpose of effecting the re-election of Woodrow Wilson and that the interests of Senators and Representatives are being shamefully neglected, but they give evidence of abject fear when it is suggested that they talk for publication and in public they are as supine and tractable as a thrice thrashed cur.

The Mexican Commission—That President Wilson has named a strong Mexican commission, in Secretary Lane, Judge Gray and Dr. John R. Mott, is generally conceded. Secretary Lane has a pretty keen grasp of the Mexican situation, as is evidenced by his frank waving aside of all the bald-headed about the first invasion having been to force a salute of the American flag and his frank avowal that its sole purpose was to drive Huerta out. Judge Grey is a man of demonstrated judicial attainments little given to extreme partisanship. And Dr. Mott's wide experience in connection with the Y. M. C. A. is likely to prove valuable. And yet, in the light of past experience and present events, that this commission has any mission other than to "tide over" the Mexican situation until after the election is difficult to perceive. Funston has recommended the withdrawal of American troops from Mexican territory and Pershing reports that Villa's power is crushed. As the declared primary purpose of the conference was to discuss conditions on which the troops would be withdrawn, its reason for being appears to have passed before it came into existence. There is, of course, another phase. Carranza wants money and President Wilson wants Americans to advance it. Possibly, after all, the chief purpose of the conference, aside from tiding over the situation until after election, is to provide American funds for Carranza. The American Commissioners will probably spend several delightful months at the sea-shore, at the government's expense, and yet they probably are entitled to sympathy because of the great likelihood that they will be made fools of, as were the Mexican delegates to Niagara Falls, two years ago.

May Mean a Saving—That the condemnation which Gov. Hughes has visited upon the administration for creating useless commissions to make places for "deserving Democrats" may be productive of good even before March 4th, is indicated by the report from Washington that certain of the Democratic leaders have initiated a movement to cut the salaries of all members of special commissions to $7,500. Certain of the Democratic leaders predict the reduction of the salaries of the members of the Interstate Commerce and the Federal Trade commissions, the Federal Reserve Board, the Farm Loans Board and the prospective tariff commission to $7,500, in conformity with the pay of members of the proposed Shipping Commission. Republicans are very sceptical, however, that any such step will be taken unless President Wilson is defeated in November.

Misrepresenting the Facts—The New York Times, another paper which is supporting President Wilson with much evidence of painful labor, charges patently that Mr. Hughes' campaign speeches exhibit an old fashioned type of Republicanism because, according to them, "Everything that is Democratic is bad." But the Times, inadvertently, misrepresents Mr. Hughes' speeches. His speeches do not condemn "everything Democratic" as bad, but practically everything about the Wilson administration as bad.

PREPARE FOR THIS. When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions we see that we are living in a fool's paradise. The temporary prosperity to which our opponents point has been created by the abnormal conditions incident to the war. With the end of the war there will be the new conditions determined by a new Europe. Millions of men in the trenches will then return to work. The energies of each of the now belligerent nations highly trained, will then be turned to production.—Charles E. Hughes.

About the only dividends that can be expected on Mexican investments for years consist of the satisfaction to be had in cussing the Greasers at a safe distance.

HUNGER FELT BY SLAV PRISONERS IN DETENTION CAMPS, THIS SAID—RUSSIANS RECEIVE NO AID

Boston, August 27—Stories of suffering and illness among Russian prisoners in German detention camps, said to be due to lack of food, were told by C. Oberoutcheff, Secretary of a Central Committee, organized in Switzerland for relief of Russian prisoners, in a statement given out here today through Alice Stone Blackwell, the garrison, numbering 200, under editor of the Woman's Magazine.

Information as to the condition of the Russians came first through delegates to the International Red Cross Commission, who had verified by personal talks with former prisoners, according to Mr. Oberoutcheff.

"The daily ration of the prisoners is scanty," he said. "In the morning they are given coffee without milk or sugar, and 200 grams of potato bread to last the entire day. At noon they receive a small quantity of soup, some vegetables and sometimes, but not often, a piece of meat. Supper is much the same. It is clear the prisoners must go hungry.

"The English, French and Belgian prisoners often receive supplies of food from their Governments, relief societies, or relatives and friends, but it is not so with the Russians.

Some Russian prisoners beg help, not only of their own richer countrymen, but of prisoners of other nationalities. Many of these would be glad to give it, but it is forbidden. The hungry Russians, however, take their soup plates to the French and get their leavings.

They sometimes even search the garbage and devour everything they find there that can possibly be eaten. We have heard of this from England and French prisoners who saw it, and I have been told of it by the Russians who have actually been obliged to do it."

Of 2,000 or more prison camps in Germany and Austria only about 100 are receiving help from relief committees, Mr. Oberoutcheff declares.

SERUM MADE FROM BLOOD EMINENT IN TREATMENT OF PLAGUE VICTIMS

New York, August 27—Serum manufactured from human blood is pre-eminent in treatment of persons afflicted with infantile paralysis, in the opinion of Dr. Simon Flexner, Director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, it became known tonight.

Dr. Flexner has recommended the treatment to the members of the American Medical Association, the largest organized body of physicians in the world.

Dr. Flexner's views and the facts he has adduced are embodied in an article contributed to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The experimental evidence in favor of this treatment shows that if a serum prepared from the blood of monkeys which have had the disease is injected into healthy monkeys, they either cannot acquire infantile paralysis when an effort is made to infect them with it, or else, if they do contract it, the severity of the ailment is modified to the extent that the onset of the inevitable paralysis is delayed. Sometime the treatment arrests the paralysis in the midst of its progress.

A MAYSVILLE INQUIRY

Answered By the State of a Maysville Resident.

When first the long series of reports of Maysville people who have been relieved by Doan's Kidney Pills were published in the local press, great enthusiasm and interest were aroused. But Maysville is now inquiring "How are these people keeping today? How has the benefit they received withstood the test of time?" For that, after all, is the essential test of a cure. On this point doubt can no longer exist, for after many years those who have been cured, emphatically declare their cures to be lasting.

Frederick Dresel, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and an annoyance from my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and I had a severe pain across the small of my back, which interfered with my duties. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store and one box gave me prompt relief."

NO TROUBLE SINCE OVER THREE YEARS LATER, MR. DRESSEL

Mr. Dresel said: "I haven't had any kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

.. ."We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, lapped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this:—I don't think it ever has had a policy in Mexico worthy of the name." From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

EXECUTION OF SENTENCES IMPOSED ON FRENCH PRISONERS POSTPONED BY KAISER UNTIL AFTER WAR

Berlin, August 27—An official statement issued here today says:

"The German Emperor has ordered postponement until after the war of the execution of all sentences imposed for the punishment of French prisoners, both civilian and military, on account of acts committed up to September 1 of this year."

The Overseas News Agency adds:

"The newspapers state this action was taken as a result of a reciprocal agreement with the French Government."

The Imperial Cabinet order providing for postponement of sentence on French prisoners also provides for their immediate release from confinement and their return to the prison camp at Cottbus. Breaches of discipline in prison camps, however, except the offenders from the provisions of the order.

If you consider the clothes we offer in the same class with the usual ready made garments, you make a big mistake.

Kuppenheimer Clothes

are styled by a staff of acknowledged masters. The fabrics are different. They are chosen for quality, not on a price basis alone. The cutting is all done by experts, high priced men, who do not have to stoop to any tricks of the trade.

Kuppenheimer tailoring is not of the machinery variety. Hand work predominates; care rules every operation; perfection is the result.

SMASHED

Was Wheat Market By Roumania's Declaration of War.

Chicago, August 28—Roumania's declaration of war smashed the wheat market. Opening prices today showed a fall in some cases amounting to 5 cents a bushel. September delivery, which closed Saturday at $1.51 1/2, started today at $1.46 to $1.48 1/2. Other options also broke wildly. General rushes to sell took place which were increased by the increased chances of a general railway strike in the United States.

Before the descent of prices could be checked, losses that reached to 8% cents a bushel were shown for the principal trading months. December sold as low as $1.45 1/2 as compared with $1.54 at Saturday's finish.

Notwithstanding that the tremendous pressure to unload holdings carried away for a while all other considerations, the extraordinary break in values was too tempting for buyers to resist, and the market showed the consequence of rallies of 3 cents to 3% from the lowest level.

In the late dealings weakness again became acute. Prices tumbled lower than before and closed demoralized 9% cents to 11 1/4 cents lower.

News that actual fighting between the Roumanians and the Teutons had already begun accompanied the final decline in prices and made the trading at the finish a frantic whirl of excitement.
